

Match Found

A middle grade novel by Paulette Hill

THE BOOK

Ten-year-old Charlie has always known she was adopted. She is biracial, her parents are white, and she has never once doubted that they love her. But she has a lot of hair and no idea where it came from. When a Christmas DNA kit turns up a close match two hours away, Charlie gets on a bus to Charlotte by herself to find out.

What she finds is not an ending. Answers have a way of arriving with more questions attached, and finding more family turns out not to mean losing the family she already has.

Warm, funny, and honest. Inspired by a true story.

THE AUTHOR

Paulette Hill was adopted as a baby by white parents in North Carolina. A DNA test in adulthood led her to biological family she had never met, including her biological father. Match Found is her first novel.

DETAILS

Published August 30, 2026

Formats Hardcover, paperback, and Kindle. Free on Kindle Unlimited.

Reading level Ages 9 to 12, grades 4 to 7

Length 198 pages

ISBN 979-8194211043 hardcover, 979-8192817049 paperback

WHERE TO FIND IT

Website matchfound.paulettehill.com

Amazon amazon.com/dp/B0HH83Q4M4

Contact hello@paulettehill.com

The website has the whole first chapter to read, plus two free companion guides, one for classrooms and one for reading the book with a child.